Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 25 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning colder on Friday, with squally rain and wintry showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
During the evening and overnight showers at times heavy continue from the west, with a few clearer spells between. Around dawn a band of heavy squally rain moves in from the west. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Friday:
Through the morning a band of heavy rain quickly pushes east, clearing by afternoon. Sunny spells and scattered showers follow, at times heavy and wintry with possible thunder. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Sunny spells and isolated wintry showers on Saturday but turning cloudy and wet later. Spells of rain on Sunday and Monday, at times heavy and continuous especially over hills. Windy.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.